The Friends of Music puts the 'fun' in fundraising, with many events throughout the year. You'll have the chance to meet new people and attend a variety of great performances spanning the spectrum of musical genres. Become a Friend and help to raise money for a great cause: the academic and professional development of up and coming musicians, Sustaining member funds all go directly toward student scholarships and grants.

Enjoy Friends events more if you bring a friend to Friends—a membership is a wonderful gift!

The Friends of Music is dedicated to the support of the Frost School of Music at the University of Miami. We work to increase South Florida's awareness of the Frost School as a major cultural resource, while raising funds for student scholarships.

Each year the 'Friends' plan a series of events designed to enjoy the diverse musicianship at the Frost School. Dinner and cocktail events are planned around musical theater, jazz, operatic recitals, chamber music or soloists from the School's student body and faculty artists.

Events are held at members' homes, at venues throughout the greater Miami area, and at the Frost School of Music. Members also receive notices and invitations to numerous special events and master classes that are not widely publicized. Here's your chance to join fellow music lovers in appreciating the arts culture in South Florida.

Make plans to join us this year. Even if you are unable to attend all of the member events, remember: membership dues go toward student scholarships, making a top-flight music education available to the most deserving and gifted students.

The Friends of the University of Miami School of Music is a member supported, non-profit 501 (c)3 organization whose purpose is to raise student scholarship funds and create interest and support for the Frost School of Music.
